

Projektstelle „Katechese Koordinatorin im Bistum Reykjavik, Island“
– Unnur Guðný Maria Gunnarsdóttir

Bericht von April 2018:

Summary of activities from January to March 2018

In the last months, I was mainly working as before on the study materials for confirmation classes in Icelandic as well as the handbook of catechesis. I prepared games, translated material and made a study guide for students, exams, and organized field trips in several parishes.

The material will all be a part of the handbook of catechesis that will be ready in autumn 2018.

I am in the process of making a complete study programme of two years for the confirmation class which from autumn 2018 will be a two-year program instead of one.

World Youth Day

A part of this program is for confirmation children to take part in the World Youth Day weekend which took part on the weekend of 24-25th of March 2018.

Work with volunteers: preparation for the Youth Day (Photo: Ron Deala)

This weekend was a nice combination of catechism, church activities, games and other activities for Catholic youth from all our parishes. Our main focus this year was also to get more of our children with the Polish background to participate in our youth programs.

I was one of the organizers, along with my college Ivan Sovic, priests and religious sisters.

Balloon rosary sent into the skies after a Mass procession on Palm Sunday (Photo: Norvell Joseph Salinas)

Handbook of the catechism

The writing of the handbook of the catechism is well on the way and the technical and practical things are being worked on at the moment.